WAYCROSS RAIDERS SCORE 6-0 WIN OVER BULLDOGS

Red Raiders Score In Final Period To Defeat Thomasville

Two Magnificent Goal Line Stands Thrill Spectators As Bulldogs and Red Raiders Battle With Flaming Courage In Defensive Game On Muddy Gridiron.

19-YARD PASS PUTS RAIDERS IN SCORING ZONE

Paul Brodie Returns Punt 30 Yards To Thomasville's 20, and 19-Yard Pass, Hughes to Hart, Enables Raiders To Score From One-Yard Line In the Final Period.

By ALBERT RILEY, JR.

The Red Raiders from Waycross stormed the Thomasville football citadel last night but it was not until the final quarter that the Raiders could fight their way through the ooze and mud and cross the Red Sea and then cross the Thomasville goal line for the lone touchdown that gave them a 6-0 victory in a game that was as great an exhibition of football courage by both teams as anyone could wish to see.

The Red Sea was the slippery red clay infield of the baseball diamond at one end of the municipal stadium gridiron. In the last quarter that Red Sea was in Thomasville's territory and it stood between the Raiders and the Bulldogs' goal line. But Waycross had gained on an exchange of punts and then Paul Brodie, the Waycross fullback and safety man, surged one of Frank Hancock's punts back from midfield 30 yards across the Red Sea to Thomasville's 20 yard line. From there Hughes, Raider halfback passed to Hart, substitute halfback, 19 yards for a first down at the Thomasville one yard line. And from there the Raiders surged across the goal line with Brodie ramming the Middle of the line for the touchdown.

W. C. "Tiny" Henderson, Bulldog tackle, blocked the try for extra point but the damage was done, and the game and not long afterward with Waycross a the victor, six points to none.

The fortunes of war change swiftly, and the tide shifted rapidly for Waycross last night, for only a few moments before that touchdown, the Bulldogs were down there at the other end of the field knocking at the Raider's goal. And on two punt exchanges, that 20 yard punt return by Brodie and the 19 yard pass the Raiders changed the complexion of the game and were in scoring position.

Defensive Battle

It was a strictly defensive battle last night as the two teams slithered around in the muck and mud of the field made soggy by yesterday's rain. Back and forth the teams punted all night, awaiting the breaks that came three times and resulted in one touchdown. The other two breaks of the game were nullified by thrilling goal line stands as the mud-caked gridders fought their hearts out to keep each other from scoring.

Goal Line Stands

It was along toward the end of the second period that the Red Raiders drove down to Thomasville's one yard line only to be hurled back by the hard charging and flaming courage of the Bulldogs who took the ball on downs and kicked out of danger.

Blocked Punt

The tide shifted in the third quarter and it was Thomasville's turn to threaten. The Bulldogs played in Waycross territory and late in the third period D. C. Duren surged through the Waycross line to block a punt that Walker Hill recovered on the Waycross 5 yard line.

Those Long Yards

It was a break and the Bulldogs seemed to be headed for glory. But those last five yards are long ones. And four times Hancock, Porter and Darby banged into the Waycross line. But the Raiders made as magnificent a stand as the Bulldogs had earlier in the game. And the red shirted defenders took the ball away on the one yard line to kick out, and then to go on to victory in the final period as the tide of fortune shifted back again to the Raiders.

Evenly Matched

Statistics attest to the strong defensive play of the two evenly matched teams. The Raiders were credited with only five first downs while the Bulldogs could get but three first downs. Each team averaged only two yards per rush from scrimmage, Waycross gaining a total of 78 yards from scrimmage while Thomasville's total yardage gained was 62.

The slippery ball made forward passes almost impossible but the Raiders completed two of them and the Bulldogs none. The Waycross pass defense was far superior to that of the Bulldogs who found themselves in hot water twice by charging in and leaving danger zones unprotected.

Raw Courage

Courage flamed magnificently on both sides, particularly in those two magnificent goal line stands that thrilled the spectators in the second and third quarters. And while it is never easy to lose and one always wants to win, Thomasville fans may feel proud of the game battle their Bulldogs put up against the favored

HALF MILLION FANS TO WATCH GRID BATTLES THIS AFTERNOON

Pitt-Ohio State, Fordham-S. M. U., Minnesota-Nebraska Games Headliners.

New York, Oct. 10 (AP)—King football rules the sports world today with upwards of a half million bench men expected to pay him tribute from the spectators' seats at a half dozen or so of the biggest games.

Starting with the Pittsburg-Ohio State battle at Columbus, O., where 75,000 fans are due to watch two outstanding teams settle their rival national championship aspirations, there are headline contests in all sections.

The Fordham-Southern Methodist and Army-Columbia encounters in new are expected to draw around 60,000 spectators each.

The list includes Minnesota-Nebraska, Illinois-Southern California, Michigan-Indiana, Purdue-Wisconsin and Notre Dame-Washington University (St. Louis) in the midwest.

Swinging toward the southwest the top games are Missouri-Kansas State and Kansas-Iowa State in the Big Six, Baylor-Arkansas and Texas A. M. and M.-Rice in the south-west conference, the inter-group Texas-Oklahoma game and the Texas Christian-Tulsa encounter.

The Utah-West State, Colorado College-Montana State and Utah State-Wyoming games keep the pot boiling in the Rocky Mountain Conference while Pacific coast fans have their choice among Washington-U. C. L. A., a game which may have an important bearing on the conference title — Oregon-Stanford and California-Oregon State.

The south, in addition to sending Virginia and Washington and Lee into the eastern sector to meet Navy and West Virginia, respectively, has an almost complete slate of big games. On the schedule are Tennessee-Auburn, Georgia-Louisiana State, Georgia Tech-Kentucky, Mississippi State-Alabama, Tulane-Centenary, Duke-Clemson, Maryland-North Carolina, Florida-South Carolina, Furman-Citadel, V. M. I.-Davidson and V. P. I.-William and Mary.

The east's "old guard," usually slow to start, steps into the thick of things with such major clashes as Yale-Pennsylvania, Dartmouth-Holy Cross and Princeton-Rutgers.

RED TERRORS FROM BRUNSWICK DEFEAT VALDOSTA IN RAIN

Over 2,000 Fans See Game.—Wildcats Threaten Inst Half As Henry Stars.

LAST HALF DRIVE

Gives Glynn Academy Victory With Blount and Lambright Scoring.

Valdosta, Ga., Oct. 10 (AP)—More than 2,000 rainsoaked spectators last night watched the Red Terrors of Glynn Academy, Brunswick's high school, stage a brilliant last half offensive on a muddy, slippery gridiron here to defeat Coach Bobby Hook's Valdosta high school Wildcats 13 to 0.

The South Georgia Football Association classic was played during a heavy pour of rain and on a flooded field which forced both clubs to resort to straight football. Valdosta outplayed Brunswick in the first half of the game, consistently pounding at Glynn's goal line.

Led by the flashy Tony Henry, brilliant half back, Valdosta smashed at Glynn's line in the first two periods to run up a total of six first downs, while Brunswick failed to register in the first half.

Resorting to sweeping end plays after the half Glynn opened an offense which took the ball down the field for touchdowns in the second and third periods.

Roswell Lambright, Glynn fullback, got the first tally after Brunswick marched down the boggy gridiron from Valdosta forty five. Rupert Blount, quarterback went over for the second score in the third period after he collected 35 yards around end to put the ball in scoring position.

MOULTRIE-TIFTON GAME WASHED OUT BY RAIN

Tifton, Ga., Oct. 9.—The Moultrie-Tifton high school football game was washed out by a heavy rainfall here last night. The annual game between the two teams will be played in December.

ALBANY INDIANS WALLOP AMERICUS PANTHERS, 22-0

Albany, Ga., Oct. 10 (AP)—Albany high school chalked up its third straight win of the current grid season with a 22-0 victory over the Americus Panthers in the new stadium here last night.

Despite an all-day rain and a steady downpour throughout the contest, the field was in excellent playing condition. A French drainage system under the gridiron came up to all expectations in its first test and there was absolutely no standing water on the playing field.

Albany scored once in the first period twice in the second, once in the third and once again in the final quarter to win over the Panthers handily.

Thirty-two Albany players saw service in the contest and the statistics revealed that Albany had 14 first downs to 5 for Americus and 262 yards for scrimmage to 57 for the visitors.

WEATHER MAN MENACES SOUTHEASTERN GRID ENCOUNTERS TODAY

Ole Miss Battles Geo. Washington To a Tie.—Tech Plays Kentucky; Ga. Meets L. S. U.

By The Associated Press

The weather man threatened to pile uncertainty on uncertainty in a card of close contests in the Southeastern Conference today.

Rain marred the loops only interactional test of the week last night when Mississippi and George Washington splashed to a drab 0-0 tie at Washington.

There was no chance for the best of footing in most of today's scuffles but combatants and fans hoped showers would stop long enough to balk the slippery ball in flight.

Rain persisted in the night at Atlanta where Georgia Tech and Kentucky prepared to clarify the conference atmosphere in a toss-up bout before a crowd of 15,000 to 20,000.

Tech's well-turfed field was reported in fair shape despite a week of showers but all hands were cheered by a forecast of fair for today.

Similar conditions prevailed at Knoxville in another standout conference battle between Tennessee and Auburn.

The Plainsmen drew the favorite's spot but a large gallery of Tennesseeans was hoping for an upset.

A dry arena was promised at Tuscaloosa where Alabama and Mississippi State came to grips in another A-1 setto that was a puzzle for the fans who like to keep score with money.

Good footing and fair weather also were believed assured for the Tulane-Centenary game at New Orleans and the L. S. U.-Georgia soiree at nightbirding Baton Rouge.

The Green Wave's date with the Shreveport Gentlemen looked like an even-stephen affair while Louisiana was the choice of the lads who like to back their judgment with a few farthings.

Rain beset Florida's invasion of Columbia to meet South Carolina.

Vanderbilt deployed on a moist field in a "breather" against Southwestern of Memphis and Sewanee took a rest.

MATTY BELL, S. M. U. GRID COACH PUTS THE BLAST ON EASTERN FOOTBALL

By SCOTTY RESTON

New York, Oct. 10 (AP)—Matty Bell, football coach at Southern Methodist University, put the blast on eastern football today before turning his Mustangs loose against Fordham at the Polo Grounds.

"It's five years behind time," he declared. "And they're not better in the west or midwest. If I tried to play football in the southwest conference the way you do, they'd boo me out of the league."

Matty's criticisms that everybody here runs with the ball. He has no object to an occasional run if it's long enough. But generally it's waster of time. He thinks they should pass.

"To hear people talk around here, you'd think they played 'open' football. Why last week they had a game down in our league and the two teams tossed 71 passes. Now that's passing. This year I reckon we'll pass the ball more times than we run with it."

Bell, whose last team lost to Stanford 7-0 in the Rose Bowl game last new year's day, says southwest fans now demand the new "gridiron basketball."

What annoys Bell is that he says he has never had what he calls a good passer.

"Bob Finley, my fullback, is all right, and I've got a couple of ends and a guy named Myers who can peg it around a little, but I've never really had a great passer like 'Slingin' Sam' Baugh of Texas Christian," said Bell. "He's about the best ever."

The way he describes it, the kids down in his part of the country put hoops on a pulley, roll them down a clothesline and throw footballs through the hoop at 50 paces. Something's bound to come of that, Matty thinks.

"You know, they play such open football down there that sometimes I use a four-man line. The rest of you are in the backfield somewhere playing 'keep away.' Of course, we have to have a running game in case they do that to us."

For all that, Bell claims he's comparatively conservative.

"They think I'm behind the times," he grinned. "I don't let my guards or tackles pass very much."

HOW DID IT HAPPEN?

By N. Y. S.

One of the severest tests of all that is manly and courageous in young boys was staged last night at the municipal stadium here when the Waycross Bulldogs opened their first engagement in Thomasville against the Harper Bulldogs on the gridiron in a literal sea of mud. It is more dangerous to play football on a wet field than at any other time. There could hardly have been any more unfortunate conditions than those that were found last night.

* * *

The score was six to nothing in favor of the Waycross boys and they more than earned their victory. The Thomasville lads had two chances to score but they did not have the power on the slick field to put it over at the crucial time. It could just as well have been six to nothing in favor of Thomasville had something worked at that period. However it did not and Waycross earned the victory, even though dearly bought.

* * *

The only casualty was a very severe ankle injury to one of the Waycross backs. The ankle was thought at first to have been broken and further examination may still reveal that condition. It was not the fault of anyone or anything except the condition of the field, a contingency which Harper felt might turn out badly when he finally decided to yield to pressure and play.

* * *

The rains descended and the floods remained on the five thousand dollar drainage of the field. It was ankle deep in spots in water and knee deep in mud in others. The boys had no footing, slipped sometimes as much as five yards and others bogged up before they got started. The officials were pitiful spectacles when they emerge from the contest as muddy and dirty as they had ever been before and on a party with some of the boys.

* * *

The Waycross lads wore red uniforms, red all over, a bright Crimson cast of red and when one had to go out and a fresh lad come in, his uni from shone like a beacon light amid the dimness of the others. In a short time however he could be taken a mud bath and was all over dark mud. The Thomasville boys had yellow and black and it looked more so when they finally got through these four twelve minute quarters.

* * *

There were no serious upsets yesterday in the Southwest Georgia conference. Albany licked Americus easily Cairo and Cordele played to scoreless tie and Brunswick topped Valdosta by two touchdowns. No upsets in those but some good football despite the weather. Next week will doubtless be clear and cooler but the games will not be nearly so pivotal as those of the past night.

BRITISH EXPERTS RANKS PERRY AND MISS JACOBS AS "TOPS" IN TENNIS

New York, Oct. 10 (AP)—England's Fred Perry and California's Helen Hull Jacobs are the world's greatest tennis players of 1936 in their respective divisions. This is the judgment of A. Wallis Myers, British authority who annually lists the world's "first ten" of the net game.

These other American women and three men are rated among the first ten of the world. Don Budge, red-headed Oakland, Calif., star moved up from sixth placeto third in the men's ranking, following Von Cramm of Germany. William Allison of Austin, Tex., fourth a year ago, was given seventh place and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, appearing in the select group for the first time, was ranked eighth.

Miss Jacobs succeeded Mrs. Helen Wills Moody as women's ruler on the strength of her successful bid for the Wimbledon title. Alice Marble of San Francisco, No. 4; Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, Mass., No. 5 and Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles, No. 10, were the other American women ranked.

The complete rankings:

Men: Perry, Von Cramm, Budge, Adrian Quist Australia, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, England; Jack Crawford, Australia; Allison, Grant, Heiner Henkie, Germany; Vivian McGrath, Australia.

Women: Miss Jacobs, Frau Sperling, Dorothy Round, England; Miss Marble, Simone Mathieu, France; Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, Poland; Katherine Stammers, England; Senorita Lizana; Mrs. Fabyan and Miss Babcock.

JOE LUOIS KNOCKS OUT JORGE BRESCIA IN THIRD ROUND

Brown Bomber Kayoes Another Victim In His Comeback Campaign.

By PAUL MICKELSON

New York, Oct. 10 (AP)—Joe Louis today motioned for his pinboy, promoter Mike Jacobs, to set 'em up in another alley.

The Brown Bomber scored another "strike" in his comeback campaign at the inaugural show of promoter Jacobs' hippodrome indoor season last night by knocking out Jorge Brescia, giant Argentine, in the third round of a scheduled 10 rounder.

Brescia rolled over on his blood spattered face, a badly beaten victim, after two minutes and 12 seconds of both tame and furious fighting.

Louis was far too ring-wise for the young "Bull of the Pampas" and he hit too hard. Brescia, sent in to fight the ring's most tremendous puncher after only eight unimportant battles, impressed the crowd of 5,200 paid spectators with his gameness under fire, but that was all.

Apparently frightened by Louis' reputation, the "young bull" opened cautiously, forcing the Bomber to do all the leading. He didn't throw a single punch for the first minute of battling as Louis backed him into the ropes and hammered him with rights and left hooks. Brescia nailed Louis with a long right to the eye that made the Bomber blink but it was his best and only good punch of the fight.

Before Louis stretched him on the canvas, the Argentine, his legs wobbling under the terrific fire, gamely mixed with Louis. The flurry lasted 20 seconds and brought the crowd to its feet but the crafty Detroit negro sent his opponent reeling with a terrific right and knocked him down and out with a well-timed left hook. He was out a full minute.

Only $24,320.32 was paid in the gate last night.

BOTH TEAMS MAKE SCORING THREATS ON CAIRO FIELD

Richter, Mills and Montgomery Are Cairo Stars In the Tie Game With Cordele.

GOAL LINE STANDS

By Both Teams Avert Touchdowns In Battle Waged On Rain Soaked Field.

Cairo, Ga., Oct. 10—Cairo High's embattled Tigers and the invading Bulldogs from Cordele battled to a scoreless tie on a muddy gridiron here last night in a game that saw both teams threaten to score only to be hurled back by the stout defenses of magnificent goal line stands.

The Tigers, otherwise known as the Syrup-Makers, received the opening kick-off, and after two plays Jones sent a booming punt down the field for 60 yards to the Cordele 5 yard line. From there the Bulldogs drove out for a first down until Captain Horace Richter, Cairo center, smeared a play and forced a punt which Jones took just past midfield in Cordele territory.

With three first downs in a row, the Tigers drove savagely down to the Cordele 2 yard line but there a costly 15-yard penalty for holding set them back and the Bulldogs took the ball over on downs at their 12 yard stripe.

Lionel Mills and Alvin Montgomery had been the wheel horses of that Cairo drive that almost got a touchdown.

The period ended after the Bulldogs had taken the ball, and during the second quarter the Cordele gridmen put on a drive that gained four first downs and penetrated to the Cairo 30 yard line before the half ended.

Again receiving the kick-off as the third period opened, the Tigers were unable to gain and punted to the Bulldogs who put on a power drive that got five first downs and penetrated to the Cairo 3 yard line. But the Bulldogs could go no further as the men of Herndon hurled back the threat and took the ball.

Punts were exchanged in the rain as the second half went on, and then Jones, Cairo quarterback almost got away on one return, going 25 yards. The slippery ball began to cause fumbles with the ball changing hands twice.

Then Lionel Mills got away at left end for a first down but slipped and
