Today's Games May Solve Rose Bowl Lineup Puzzle

By ED DORRIGAN

A grim guessing game called "Who is going to the Rose Bowl?" was being played today. The final big Saturday of the college football season, and if form follows the answer figured to come out Michigan and UCLA.

Both Michigan State and Oregon State were in contention for the gold and glory of the big Jan. 1 game in Pasadena, Calif.

Michigan had what appeared to be the more difficult task. That of beating its archrival, Ohio State. A surprising victory would send them West. An Ohio State triumph would give the bid to Michigan State as the Big Ten challenger.

UCLA's task was to whip South California in the NCAA's television game of the day. The Utes were without the services of their ace passer, Ronnie Kroc, who suffered a broken ankle last week. That set up, they were the touchdown favorite over the Trojans.

COTTON BOWL SURFACER

One other team could cement a bid. That would be Texas Christian, which has been a time-honored Rose Bowl winner.

A TCU victory would assure the Horned Frogs the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

The big 10 race has been won, once again, and on this, its 11th meeting, the two teams will play no more than three hours apart.

radio accounts of the Michigan State game while it played conference Marquette.

The Spartans finished their season last night with a 38-0 mark. Before the Ohio State game, Michigan's record showed 8-1-1.

Ohio State, which boasts a spotless loss record, is ineligible, having played in the Rose Bowl last year.

If Southern Cal usurped the Utes and Oregon State scored an expected victory over Oregon, a vote would have to be taken to decide the team for State would get the bid. The 6-3 record compared to 5-3 for UCLA.

The ancient Ivy League championship also was scheduled to be decided. The Yale game was in Princeton, N. J., where Princeton had to travel to Dartmouth. The Tigers needed the victory to wrap up the crown.

ALL-EVERY TITLE.
If Princeton faltered, Yale was ready to step in. A combination triumph over Harvard and a minimum victory over Princeton would give the mythical title to the Big Ten.

Nebraska met Oklahoma. The team in the land, the Sooners, had 10 games in a row and seven won, but lost in the Big Seven. Maryland, Oklahoma's Orange bowl opponents, has 20 points-plus.

Miami Hurricanes Win Title, 28-12

MIAMI, Fla. — "You can't ship 'em if you can't catch 'em," Alabama Coach J. B. Whitten said just after his Crimson Tide had taken a 24-12 drubbing from Miami's Hurricanes.

"We sure couldn't catch those Miami backs. It was the fastest game we've ever seen."

Mike Davis, who even after being down twice in the first five minutes of the game, Don Bissell, just broke our hearts," Bissell said, referring to his team's one-point, three-times losers.

The ceremony will be at half-time of the Texas Tech-Ole Miss football game, Peathers' assistant coach Tom Trammell, fourth straight victory. Miami's three losses, all by close margins, were to Notre Dame, Texas Christian and Georgia Tech, of the nation's "top ten."

Bert Mayes preferred the Hurricanes with his bold passes, completed 20 of 28 for 212 yards and six touchdowns, and his 100-yard run and a touchdown after the first five minutes that Miami could win as pleased. Mayes' short, hard pangs carried him off the field, but he returned to the field, and the second half saw him with a seven-yard, one-yard pass and a 10-yard run and a two-yard plunge.

Feathers Named To Hall of Fame

LUBBOCK, Tex. — Over at Bristol, Va., they should be hitting bottom today.

Bristol becomes one of the few, if there are any more, cities to have had one of its football Hall of Fame members.

Gene McEvry, Bristol-raised, was a backfield great at the University of Tennessee. He was voted the hall of fame last year, too.

Today Feathers, who watched the 18-year-old Hall of Fame induction, played with McEvry on Fred Neidert's 1958 state championship Virginia Tech team and also with him at Tennessee, is being inducted into the Hall.

The ceremony will be at half-time of the Texas Tech-Ole Miss football game. Feathers' assistant coach is Tom Trammell, fourth straight victory. Miami's three losses, all by close margins, were to Notre Dame, Texas Christian and Georgia Tech, of the nation's "top ten."
